

The WaudWare team knows computers and how to provide the best in computer software, service and support, from concept to completion ~ and beyond. Our performance is second to none, beginning with the design, programming, and installation - then following through with after-installation support. We design, write, and offer solutions that work the way customers want - and are easy to learn and use.

WaudWare employees represent the heart and soul of the company. Our employees are invaluable - in that they bring their talent, experience and dedication with them to work every day. Our team members are treated with the same consideration and respect as our customers.

The technology WaudWare has used and advocated for many years is Foxpro and Visual Foxpro. These products give WaudWare a distinctive edge when it comes to developing powerful, fast, and stable applications.

Customer needs are determined by investing time upfront to ensure that mutual expectations are understood before work begins. A preliminary analysis occurs to uncover areas of need. Regular meetings are held at strategic points during the project to monitor progress. Installation and training are meticulously performed to customer's specifications. We're not finished until our customer is completely satisfied.
